Looking for bluegrass music in San Diego? You're in the right place!

The San Diego Bluegrass Society sponsors a wide variety of bluegrass music events, including open mics and jam sessions for San Diegans and visitors who desire to play bluegrass in a group setting. SDBS also brings bluegrass concerts by nationally recognized bands touring through our region, along with workshops and other educational activities. Check out our Events+Calendar page for details. Better yet, sign up for our email list and we'll keep you informed of special events. Best of all, join the SDBS with a family membership ($25) or a band membership ($35) per year for our monthly e-newsletter, special member discounts, and more. You'll enjoy becoming part of our family-friendly community, and knowing that your support keeps bluegrass music alive and well in San Diego.
